clothes than ever before in our history. Young men are so keen for smart style, that they're very likely to have a lot of cheap quality "put over" on them; stuff that looks good just long enough to sell.

But if style is important, the quality that keeps it in shape is just as important; the quality of fabrics and tailoring is the basis on which style rests.

Just remember that; and don't forget that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, the smartest styles made, have back of the style the highest quality of all-wool fabrics and the best tailoring in the world.

Suits for fall; overcoats for fall; at $16.50 and up. At $20 we show you some of the greatest values ever seen. Other suits and overcoats, $10 to $15.

MORE BLOWS FOR SULZER

Testimony of Allan A. Ryan to Be Retained on Court's Record

PAID THE GOVERNOR $10,000 IN CASH

And Latter Tried to Bring Political Pressure to Bear on Republicans to Have Impeachment Proceedings Declared Illegal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Most startling of all the testimony heard by the impeachment court came yesterday afternoon in an extra inning permitted the prosecution just before Harvey D. Hinman opened for the defense.

It was that Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, not only gave William Sulzer $10,000 in cash toward the candidate's "personal campaign," but that Mr. Sulzer asked him to bring political pressure to bear on the court itself to save him.

Mr. Ryan's exact words on the stand were: "He asked me to go to Washington to see Senator Root and request him to see William Barnes and get him to endeavor to have the Republican members of this body to vote that this court had no right to try and impeach him."

Mr. Ryan did not say so on the stand, but he did not convey Gov. Sulzer's request to Senator Elihu Root. He gave his testimony while his personal counsel, William T. Jerome, was sitting with the lawyers for the impeachment managers.

The effect upon the spectators, court and counsel for both sides was stupefying. Judge Herick, chief of the Sulzer defenders, looked around him in bewilderment. Even the usually unperturbable John B. Stanchfield betrayed his astonishment and gratification.

Allan Ryan had refused to talk until he got into court. Even Mr. Stanchfield, who examined him, didn't know what was coming.

When Judge Herick got his breath, he protested that this testimony had no bearing on the case as set down in the impeachment articles. Presiding Judge Cullen sustained him, but Senator Elton R. Brown, Republican leader of the Senate, demanded a roll call. The vote was the closest recorded in this trial. Thirty-two members stood with Judge Cullen and 18 against him, so the entire reference to Senator Root and William Barnes, jr., Republican state chairman, was stricken out of the official record, but not from the minds of those who heard it.

Right on the heels of his evidence that $10,000 of Ryan's money had gone into the pockets of William Sulzer, "friend of the people" and "foe of the plutocrats," came the admission of Brig. Gen. Edward P. Meany of the New Jersey National Guard, that he lent William Sulzer $10,000 in cash soon after the nomination.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The high court of impeachment, after an executive session lasting half an hour, voted to retain the record of the testimony of Allan A. Ryan regarding Gov. Sulzer's alleged attempt to bring pressure to bear on Republican senators to vote his impeachment illegal. Ryan was recalled to the stand and was asked regarding further conversation with Gov. Sulzer on the occasion when the latter made his request. Ryan testified that Sulzer told him that he did not want to drag Mrs. Sulzer into the situation or to have her placed on the stand. The governor also said if the trial was declared illegal he could make a public statement explaining the situation satisfactorily.

JAMAICA WON SERIES.

Winning Run Came Across in Ninth—L. G. S. Had Good Lead.

The rubber game between the Jamaica baseball team and the Leland and Gray seminary nine was played on the home grounds and resulted in a victory for Jamaica, thereby making it two out of three over the academy boys. The game was interesting in that the result was in doubt until the last man was out in the ninth inning. It looked like a victory for the L. G. S. boys by an easy margin until the sixth when Benjamin Phillips of Townshend, who substituted for an absent player of the Jamaica team, made a three-base hit with three on bases, thus tying the score. In the ninth an error by Cutler and the muffing of H. Crowninshield's long fly by Newell in left field let Landman in with the winning run, as L. G. S. failed to get a man over in their half. Landman, Jamaica's old reliable pitcher, was in the box for the visitors and pitched a good game, striking out nine and passing none. Barry did well for the school boys, though not quite up to his opponent either in strikeouts or steadiness, for he passed two and struck out but seven: The score:

VISITED STATE FOREST.

Company of 30 Inspected Reservation With Forester Hawes.

State Forester Austin F. Hawes and A. W. Sweeton, agricultural agent of Windham county, conducted a party to the state reservation for investigation and instruction Saturday. A company of about 30, including prominent citizens, guests from the Inn, Miss Rosalind Ogle and her teachers' training class of 10 young women from the seminary, met at F. W. Watson's and started on the climb over the hills. Mr. Hawes explained the process of planting the trees, and led the company on a long hike to the west end of the reservation. The Scotch pines, and the white pines which were set out in the spring to the number of 30,000, were found to be in good condition, very few of them having died. Nearly all have made a fine growth for the first season, having increased from four inches to 11 inches in different parts of the plantation. The day was perfect, and the view from the hills was inspiring. The entire company went home somewhat weary, but enthusiastic over the possibilities of forest planting.

Miss Grace W. Sawyer of Worcester, Mass., came to the Inn Saturday to stay a few days.

Miss A. H. Bassett, M. D., and Miss Gertrude Cummings of Boston have been guests at the Inn.

J. J. Cudworth and Miss Elisabeth Cudworth returned to the Inn Monday, after a week's outing in different parts of the county.

Sunday guests at the Inn were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albree of Bellows Falls and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams of Northfield, Mass.

Miss Ella Stebbins, who enjoyed a vacation of four weeks, a part of which she spent at her home here, returned to Springfield, Mass., Tuesday for the busy fall season at Miss Dawes's millinery parlors.

Merton Williams was arrested Saturday in the north part of the town near the lumber camp and brought before Judge E. L. Hastings on the charge of intoxication. He pleaded not guilty, but on the testimony of Mrs. Eugene Reardon he was adjudged guilty and fined $15 and costs, it being his second offense, making a total of $23.16, which he paid.

In the Russian Wash.

The laundry business in Russia is still in its infancy, says the American consul at Moscow.

There are no steam laundries in the cities, for the general trade, the work being done either at the homes or at private hand laundries. Families who can afford it usually keep one or more servants whose time is occupied with the washing and ironing.

In the homes of the well-to-do washing machines and wringers are to be found, but in the majority of homes the family washing is done in a wooden or metal trough and rinsed in a stream of water. Washboards are just coming into use.

In the private hand laundries injurious chemicals are used to "break" the water, and fragile clothing lasts but a few washings.

The proprietors have no thought of time, and usually an ordinary week's wash is not delivered under a fortnight. The delivery is made in baskets carried by boys or girls on foot, delivery wagons being unknown.—Tid-Bits.

WEST BRATTLEBORO.

Rev. Henry Lamb was called back to Bridport Tuesday morning by the illness of Mrs. Lamb's father, which has assumed a very critical stage. Mrs. Lamb has planned to return home several times, but has been prevented because of her father's illness. Mr. Lamb hopes to be able to return in time for his next Sunday's work.

Let the old hen and her brood have a sheaf of wheat and watch them keep busy.

Pop-Corn as Breakfast Food.

Pop-corn for breakfast is Uncle Sam's latest advice to assist those who desire home relief from the high cost of living. Department of agriculture corn investigations specialists declare pop-corn is superior when properly prepared for the table, to many of the breakfast foods now on the market. And $20 worth of pop-corn in the form of 5 cent packages for the market represents an outlay of only about $1 or $1.50 for raw material, these experts say. This amount of corn can be grown in a garden 20 feet by 40 feet.

In a farmer's bulletin just issued the experts tell how to grow pop-corn, how to make it into toothsome breakfast dishes and advise the children of households to take up this branch of home farming.
